Bad News!

I am not going to be able to provide you with a lesson today. I have not left myself enough time to do this properly. The lesson is a good one (as in detailed and difficult) and will need to wait until tomorrow to get it right. I have updated the links etc on my webpage in preparation. I have separated the question section and the problem section on the worksheet and renamed the worksheet to qualitative and quantitative. That is as far as I was able to get. Be sure to refresh the page to see the changes. I need to go to the school this afternoon to help with textbook return. Maybe see you there. You could always revisit what we did at the end of last week!
